Omschrijving

The MXR Rockman X100 Analog Tone Processor revives the signature sonic character of its headphone amp namesake in stompbox form. That device was more than just a headphone amp, though, and this pedal captures all the magic that made it the secret weapon for nailing the 1980s arena rock sound. With the same four tonal presets, carefully calibrated compression, and bucket-brigade chorusing, this all-analog recreation also features both mono and stereo modes and optional external mode switching for an enhanced user experience.

- The defining sound of arena rock
- Crystalline cleans, crunchy harmonics, and shimmering modulation
- Same four tone presets as the original
- Complex compression circuit
- Original bucket-brigade chip for lush, expansive chorusing
- Off-board switching, stereo mode, and more advanced features
